

Michael & Jamie Marsicano

Michael Marsicano and his 16 year old son Jamie have a particular interest in the arts and community service. Jamie is on the Executive Board of the non-profit organization Playing for Others which uses participatory visual and performing arts experiences to engage children with disabilities and to raise dollars for the disability cause. Jamie is a junior at Myers Park High School pursuing the International Baccalaureate diploma and a member of the National Arts Honor Society.

Jamie's dad is President and CEO of Foundation For The Carolinas, a community foundation distributing over $100 million per year to philanthropic causes. He previously served as the President/CEO of the Arts and Science Council. Michael Marsicano has served on several education and arts boards including Duke University, Queens University, Americans for the Arts, The Kenan Institute for the Arts and The University of North Carolina School of the Arts.

Jamie's mom is Leslie Marsicano, Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs at Davidson College and he has two brothers Christopher and David."