

Tiz Benson, Tizzerts, Inc.
August 2009

A Charlotte native, Tiz's mom, Natalie Faison, was a great home cook and baker, therefore Tiz loves making desserts and mostly Southern-style baked goods. After college, Tiz travelled with a family as a nanny to NYC and ultimately, Paris, France, where she lived for 14 months. Tiz returned to her Charlotte, worked for Harris Teeter as an Assistant Bakery Buyer and then continued her pursuit of a professional baking degree at Peter Kump's NY Cooking School (New York Culinary Institute) in 1991. While in Manhattan, Tiz worked for a wholesale bakery, Umanoff & Parsons, and learned about production baking and distribution.

With this knowledge, Tiz returned to Charlotte to open Tizzerts, Inc. in 1995 with the help of Anita Stack. Ever since, they have been creating delicious and fantastic cakes, brownies, pound cakes, and more for many special occasions for the Charlotte public and numerous Charlotte landmarks, such as Reid's, Harris Teeter (some locations), and Price's Chicken Coop.

Tiz is married to Benjamin Benson, a commercial architect, and they have 8 year old twins, Natalie and Zack. Life is busy and sweet!
